

SAMPLE POLICY

Effective from the 13th of September 2018

Thank you for your interest in our all natural Australian made products.

We are asked to provide samples on a daily basis. If we delivered samples at no charge to each client who asked for them it would increase the cost of our products. This would work counter to our goal of manufacturing 100% natural products that are affordable for everyday use.

It is also very hard to qualify genuine buyers vs people fishing for free samples via email.

To obtain Samples, please choose one of the below options:

Option 1:

- We charge for all samples including shipping
- When you place your first order for the same product/s, The Trade Republic will provide you with a full credit for the cost of the samples against your new invoice

Please note this is conditional:

- The order value must be greater than the cost of the samples
- The order must cover the cost of manufacturing the samples you were shipped

Option 2:

- Provide us with your FedEx or DHL account to cover the cost of shipping the samples and we will send you a limited amount of samples at no charge

We have found in the past 90% of the people we send samples to at no cost never place an order, however 100% of the people who purchase samples become long term clients.

If you would like to place a sample order please let us know which option you prefer, or if you have any questions regarding samples, please email us at info@thetraderepublic.com.au

By purchasing our products you agree to our terms and conditions stated on this document.
